

Presentations by Author Katharine Kendzy Gingold

Ink Dancing: The Choreography of Creative Writing

A Power Point presentation of approximately 1 hour, including time for questions

Part 1: My Book

Brief synopsis of Ruth by Lake and Prairie
Why I wrote it

Part 2: Naperville History

Who the first settlers were
Where they came from
How they got here
Where they went beyond Naperville

Part 3: Writing This Book

Defining Creative Non Fiction, Historical Narrative and Fiction
The exciting detective work of research
Using books, the Internet, etc. and the importance of Primary Sources
Filling in details with experts and experience

Part 4: Writing for Life

Careers in writing beyond book author
Some different approaches to creative writing
When to follow rules, when to let loose
The importance of being organized while being creative
Finding “success” in an ordinary life like Ruth’s and mine

Presentation Requirements:

A white wall or screen to display the Power Point program and electrical outlets
I can bring my computer to run the program or bring the program on a thumb drive to run on your computer
I can bring my projector if you do not have one
If I need to bring my equipment, I will need an extra hour to set up and make sure everything is running smoothly
I can give the presentation without Power Point if necessary
If the room is larger than a classroom, a microphone would be preferable

For more information, contact Kate by email at kate@gnuventures.net or by phone at 630-548-1468.

www.RuthByLakeAndPrairie.com

